Activities of Interest To All in The Various Communities

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Ray Smyth, of Narberth, a blind pianist, was the guest entertainer at a dinner meeting of the Doylestown Civic Club, last evening, when he also gave a history of American jazz.

The pianist, who delighted the service clubmen with his anecdotes, background and stories of many of the modern day composers and tunesmiths, traced the history of jazz from its inception about 1910 in New Orleans with the famed Dixieland bands.

He followed the progression of this new type of "crazy music" up through the Tin Pan Alley phase in New York City, the Blues, Swing, the Latin-American influence, including the sambas, rumbas, up to boogie-woogie and be-bop.

The pianist-lecturer demonstrated all types of musical history with his own arrangements of selections by well known composers as Jerome Kern, Irving Berlin, George Gershwin, Richard Rodgers, Vincent Youman, Cole Porter, and others.

He paid special tribute to Paul Whiteman, dean of American jazz, for his contribution by raising it up to the level of acceptance by music lovers.

One of the most unusual programs ever presented before the civic club, Mr. Smyth was given a

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The Senate votes today on ratification of the North Atlantic treaty, with advance polls indicating approval by 5 to 1. Secretary of State Acheson rejected Russia's protest against Italy joining as "utterly without foundation." Britain, France and Italy also disputed Moscow's view. Foreign Minister Schuman said France, which will vote on the treaty tomorrow, considered United States military aid to European signatories "a natural consequence" of ratification.

Former Secretary of State Marshall, in a copyrighted interview with the United Press, said the treaty "immeasurably" strengthened this country's security and improved the prospects of lasting world peace through its "potentials" in discouraging aggression.

Government procedures and legal qualifications contribute to the weakening of anti-trust laws, a House subcommittee was told. Two lawyers warned that expanding monopoly in industry was the direct road to socialism. The House opened debate on the Administration farm program, with indications that even a "trial run" on selected crops would be defeated.

Housing Expediter Woods built a house on half an acre of land for $6,750 and Chairman Vinson of the

APPROVE PLANS FOR NEW NURSES' HOME

21 Girls Have Made Application For Sellersville Nursing School

JUNE, 377 PATIENTS

SELLERSVILLE, July 21 — Approval has been given to plans for the proposed home for nurses at Grandview Hospital. This approval by state authorities is to be followed by submission of bids.

At a meeting of the board of directors it was announced that these specifications will be completed and ready for final inspection by the board at the August meeting after which bids will be sought.

The board decided to make repairs to the hospital elevator at an estimated cost of $1,000.

A contract to have the elevator inspected at regular intervals on a fixed fee basis has been approved. The plan will provide inspection twice each month and repairs will be made when necessary.

Included in the report of the superintendent, Miss Nellie Hoffecker, was a statement concerning the enrollment in the school of nursing. The report indicated that 21 girls have made application to enroll for training as nurses, one of the largest lists in years. The applicants have been investigated and with few exceptions, have been found quite acceptable.

It was pointed out that students of nursing must be in residence at the nurses' home, and that the limited available room has barred the enrollment of all the applicants who are qualified.

Graduate nurses, employed at the hospital, may be housed outside and an effort will be made to find convenient accommodations for graduates to permit the largest possible enrollment of students.

The report showed that during June, 377 patients were treated for a total of 2,024 hospital days. There were 50 major and 122 minor operations and 61 births during the month.

WATER TO COST MORE OUTSIDE MORRISVILLE

10% Discount Will To Be Denied Those Outside The Borough

EFFECTIVE OCTOBER 1

MORRISVILLE, July 21 — Water rates for consumers of water, who reside out of the borough and are supplied by Morrisville Borough will pay increased rates on the October billing. The rates have been approved by the Public Utilities Commission.

Actual rates for all users are the same but residents of surrounding areas are denied the 10 percent discount allowed borough residents.

Although the PUC approved the new rate presented by the borough, William Howell, borough secretary, and Willard Curtin, solicitor, journeyed to Harrisburg recently to revise a few regulations objected to by the Bureau of Rates and Research.

Objections centered around the charging of a fee for water permits. The borough now has a set of rates for water used in the construction of a building rather than a permit fee.

At its own discretion, the borough may demand a $50 deposit for service applications, the fee being refunded when water is used.

These regulations and the new rate apply only to water users not living in the Borough of Morrisville.

Blaze Destroys Kitchen and Another Room; Damage is $5,000

YARDLEY, July 21 — An aged woman narrowly escaped being burned here late yesterday when she was carried from her blazing home by her husband, 72.

The woman, Mrs. Willis Derry, 75, appears none the worse for her experience. She has been an invalid for two years.

Mrs. Derry and husband reside here along with a maid and her husband. A pie was being baked in the oven of an oil stove and the kitchen was unoccupied at the time. Suddenly there was a loud report and the kitchen was soon a mass of flames.

Smoke poured into the bedroom of Mrs. Derry. She was carried out of the house by her husband, who is 72 years of age. She was taken to the home of a niece.

Yardley firemen responded to the call. The flames quickly destroyed the rear structure used as a secondary kitchen and burned through a partition to destroy a larger room before firemen could subdue them.

PROPAGANDA THROUGH IN

World Federation of Trade Unions is a notorious tool of communist labor leaders. The American Federation of Labor refused to affiliate with it for that reason, and the CIO belatedly withdrew from it last year. Now the WFTU is being used as the founding board for a new Soviet propaganda campaign.

In a long memo addressed to Secretary General Lie of the United Nations, the WFTU gives a rigged set of figures. Unemployment in 12 capitalist countries (11 of them Marshall Plan beneficiaries or North Atlantic Treaty signers, or both) is more than 10,000,000, the memo says. Capitalist governments are conspiring to conceal the facts, it adds.

American unemployment is almost 6,500,000, it says. American employment is almost 9,000,000 below the wartime peak. (Both of these figures are lies). Profits are higher, while workers are driven into poverty and unemployment. The working class must therefore strike for higher wages and shorter hours, it avers.

A series of strikes in the United States at this time, reds are convinced, could do a maximum amount of harm. If European workers take the WFTU's advice, they may make their own lot so desperate that communism can take over their countries.

If they do their own thinking, the workers will realize that the United States, which is spending generously to bring recovery to their countries, can hardly be the villain of the piece. But this propaganda is not an appeal to reason, but to fear.

This is another case where the communists are using the United Nations to put their lies into circulation.

Secretary Lie, whose salary comes mainly from American taxpayers, can avoid the appearance of succumbing to these plots. He refuses to accept communist propaganda in the future and denounces it.

HAVE A HEART!

Officials of the Veterans Administration, medical and lay, are lumped. They are up against a formidable opponent, a man who can control his own heartbeat. By taking good use of this frightening faculty, he has, the VA says, used it to expend considerable time and money over a protracted period and in many places.

His latest caper, according to the VA, involved getting himself hospitalized for a two-week period in Illinois. He had all the symptoms of heart prostration.

Medical authorities say he is one of only a score of people who can perform this prodigious feat of anatomical discipline. That news is no help to the VA. The man still has his faculty, and presumably he will use it whenever he wishes.

What could one say in trying to persuade him to change his antics? Certainly it would be a poor approach to start off with "Have a heart, Buddy." No here has to be another approach and the VA would like to know what it is.

Grooming for Bare Legs

Courtesy Nair
If you intend to go without stockings this summer, be sure your legs look well-groomed. Use a depilatory as often as necessary, carefully following directions.

By HELEN FOLLETT
TRULY, the beauty road is one that has no turnings. It goes straight ahead, must be traveled daily. A girl must not only powder her nose, curl her hair, lay on the finger nail pigment and pluck her eyebrows, but must put make-up on her legs if she wears anklets instead of stockings.

The girl who goes swimming can apply a water-proof foundation and a water-proof powder, if she so desires. These items are on sale at cosmetic counters. However, they will form a barrier against the rays of the sun and no tanning will go on.

Leg Make-Up
For regular wear there is leg make-up that causes the flesh to look as if it were encased in the most fragile, beige-colored chiffon. If you belong to the bare-legged cult, watch out that you apply it evenly. Include the knees. The skin on these human hinges is usually a bit coarse grained. A little attention won't do a bit of harm.

A light growth of fuzzers on the lower limbs worries some girls, but it need not; a depilatory will remove it.

When using any agent for the removal of superfluous hair, make a test. Follow directions precisely and exactly, covering a small area the size of a dime. If there is no irritation, do the full job next day. Some skins may protest against these preparations, but that does not mean that they are harmful. Sensitive flesh may also protest against the purest powders or nail polish, just as the skin may break out when certain foods are eaten.

And don't forget that, if the legs are to be pretty, one should wear properly-fitted shoes, send them to the cobbler the minute the taps are run over.

'SAINTS' REGISTER 4 TO 2 WIN OVER LALOR A. C. NINE

St. Ann's A. A. snapped out of its doldrums last evening and registered a 4-2 win over Lalor A. C. in a Trenton Industrial League game on Memorial Park field. The "Saints" had dropped two straight games in the Jersey circuit.

"Rabbit" Palumbo paced the St. Ann's nine to the triumph. The diminutive shortstop for the "Saints" personally accounted for three of the four runs. In the third he made a clean steal of home after drawing a walk, stealing second, and advancing to third on "Chuck" Klein's hit. Palumbo came up in the fourth with Joe Elmer on third and Tony Toranto on second. He immediately lined out a triple to center, scoring both base-runners.

The opposing hurlers were Stan Stevenson, of the winners, and Irwin Penrose for Lalor. The Trenton team outthit the locals, 9-7, but Stevenson was tighter in the pinches while Penrose would have had a better fate but for Palumbo's work.

Joe Elmer, St. Ann's backstopper, had two hits and had three stolen bases to his credit. In fact, St. Ann's had six stolen bases.

St. Ann's scored a pair of runs in the third on an error, a walk to Palumbo, Klein's hit, and a steal of home. Its second duo of runs came on Palumbo's triple after Elmer had singled and Toranto walked.

A double by Nugent and an error by Palumbo scored a Lalor run in the second while in the third, Barbetta made an error and Hoffman and Nugent made hits to produce another run.

FRANKLIN WINS IN EASY FASHION

Loose ball playing in the first three innings caused the Jefferson A. C. to go down to defeat at the hands of the Franklin A. C. team last evening on Memorial Park field in a Bristol Suburban Softball League tilt. Final score was 11-5.

The Jefferson team, which dropped to third place as the result of the loss, committed six errors in the trio of innings and this helped the Franklin boys to pile up a 9-0 lead.

"Reggie" Gerome hurried for the winners and blanked Jefferson for five innings. He went sour in the sixth and was touched for five runs before "Jim" Brescia came to the rescue and finished the game. Vito Marseglia started on the mound for Jefferson and pitched until two were out in the third. "Willie" Salerno replaced Marseglia and finished by allowing two runs. One of these tallies was a home run from the bat of "Tommy" Kervick in the sixth inning.

Kervick, Fred Fields, Paoletta, and Angelo Spinelli had two hits each for Franklin with "Johnny" Ciambella and Steve Clotti getting a pair of singles for the losing team.

ST. JAMES' DEFEATS CALVARY BAPTIST

Sparked by "Ducky" DeLong's three run homer, St. James defeated Calvary Baptist 8 to 6 in a softball game last evening.

St. James scored two runs in the first inning on singles by Tranter, Jack Bailey and Bud Pearson, only to lose the lead to the home team on a dropped fly ball, a walk and singles by Getz and Broschard. In the top of the third the roof fell in on Smith, when with one out, Tranter singled, advanced to second on a wild pitch and scored on Spencer's double. Jack Bailey beat out a bunt and DeLong scored his mates with a long home run to left field. Calvary loaded the bases in the third with one out, but Spencer bore down to strike out Smith and retire Getz on a grounder to Pearson.

St. James scored single "cushion" runs in the fourth and fifth innings, and Calvary added two more in the fifth inning and one in sixth inning to round out the scoring for the night. Joining DeLong in heroes' roles for the night were Tranter with four hits and Jack Bailey with three while MacCorkle and Pearson made nice fielding plays for the victors.

USE GOOD IRONING TECHNIQUES TO GET THE BEST RESULTS

By Miss Frances Vannoy
Home Economics Representative
To keep summer clothes fresh and crisp looking, use your best ironing techniques and iron early in the day. Try doing some ironing two or three mornings a week rather than leaving it all for one time.

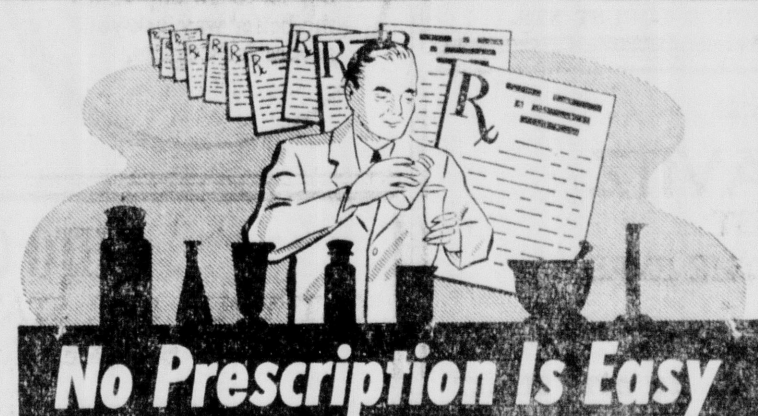

The following suggestions are offered for easier and quicker ironing: Sprinkle clothes evenly and fold pieces loosely. Allow them to stand until dampness has spread through the garments, preferably overnight.

Practice ironing with an unaltered, rhythmic motion to give the heat time to do the work. Constant pressing down on the iron is tiring. If there is a large number of garments to be ironed, always iron a garment dry to keep it from wrinkling and re-dampening adjoining parts of the garment. Ironing until dry may seem slow but it saves time in the end.

In ironing blouses, shirts, or dresses, iron first the parts that can hang off the board, such as cuffs, collars, sleeves, and belts then do the body of the garment. Another suggestion is to iron with the weave of the material. Circular skirts and hems won't be stretched out of shape when fabric is ironed with the grain.

Start ironing seams on the wrong side of the garment so the outside has a smooth look. Turn garment right side out, reduce heat, and finish ironing. Avoid shine on dark cottons and rayons and on double thicknesses of pockets and collars by ironing first on wrong side, then use a lightweight pressing cloth to finish on the right side. The appearance of rayon garments is often improved with a second pressing after they hang for a while.

It's a good idea to iron carefully around buttons, turning the button side down on a thick bath towel and ironing over it. Avoid ironing the buttonhole side too heavily, if possible, as a handy aid for ironing neck and shoulders.

WASHINGTON WEEK

By CHARLES L. ECKENROAD

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21—They tell the story of the football coach who, while instructing his quarterbacks in a strategy meeting one day, ordered:

"When in doubt, punt!"

President Truman, from his messages to Congress last January and again a few days ago on the economic condition of the nation, must have gotten somewhat the same orders from his $45,000 worth of economic advisers:

"When in doubt, spend!"

At any rate, one who reads the two messages gathers that Mr. Truman feels that deficit spending will cure all evils.

For example, in his message of January 7, 1949, just six months ago, the President said:

"Expectations of continued inflation have added to the incentives for business investment, while the price rise has acted as a brake on the demand of consumers with relatively fixed incomes."

Government Expenditures Due to Rise

"The proportion of consumer expenditures in the total national product has never been lower in any peacetime year for which statistics are available."

"This is not an immediate problem so long as the sum of Government expenditures, business expenditures and net foreign investment is still rising."

That was his answer to threatened deflation now.

Here is his answer to threatened deflation now.

"These and other Government policies are providing strong support to business activity and are enlarging the opportunities of private business."

"The fact that public expenditures of Federal, State and Local Governments are running at a rate of close to $60 billion a year is itself an element of great stability in the present situation."

In his budget message last January, the President said "a prosperous country cannot afford an unbalanced budget." Then, he proceeded to introduce a budget which he admitted was at least $600,000,000 out of balance and it turned out to be at least $1,800,000,000 out of balance.

Truman forsakes Balanced Budget

In his message a few days ago the President said:

"Balancing the budget and reducing the national debt are objectives to be achieved at the earliest feasible time."

"But those objectives cannot be achieved without regard to the general state of the nation's economy."

Then he adds:

"We cannot expect to achieve a budget surplus in a declining national economy."

This raises the question of when can we expect to achieve a budget surplus if it cannot be done in prosperous years and cannot hope to be done in a declining economy?

George Washington said in his farewell address:

"As a very important source of strength and security, cherish public credit. One method of preserving it is to use it as sparingly as possible."

One method of preserving it is to use it as sparingly as possible.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY PARADE

By Max Factor, Jr.

(Famous make-up advisor to the screen stars, now writing for International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD—If you are five-foot-one and a chubby blonde, there is no use working up an inferiority complex about not being able to present the taller brunette status-escence of a Dorothy Lamour.

Of course, such a blonde could dye her hair black, but if she did she still wouldn't look like Dorothy, and there is no use trying.

A figure, features, complexion and hair colorings comparable to those of a Dorothy Lamour are undeniable beauty assets. But inability to present any or all of these by no means signifies that you are not or cannot be beautiful. Miss Lamour does not at all resemble Betty Grable, who is also beautiful. Betty Grable does not at all resemble Marguerite Chapman, who is also beautiful. And so it goes.

All of which signifies that there is no single, precise, inelastic code or definition for beauty. You don't have to be any certain height in order to be beautiful. Your features don't have to be sculptured along certain exact lines. Your figure need not offer one certain combination or measurements; beauty will always continue to remain an at least slightly undefinable quality.

In spite of the fact that beauty is a somewhat nebulous thing, you nevertheless can ask yourself how beautiful an appearance you do present, and also if this appearance is as beautiful as it possibly can be.

Here are questions which you should ask yourself if you are concerned about your beauty.

On the whole, are you pleased with the reflection of your facial appearance as you view it in your mirror after completing your make-up?

Is your hair attractively lustrous, and artistically done, with its styling forming an attractive frame for your own individual facial features?

Does your rouge application offer the softly toned natural blush effect which it should? Is your lipstick application thin and smooth or does it show a thick surplus? Has your face powder been brushed smooth? Are your eyebrows symmetrical in their arch? Do your neck, throat, and ear areas show the same careful make-up grooming that is apparent on your face?

Are your teeth well cared for? Are you keeping the skin of your arms soft and smooth? Are your nails at all times nicely manicured? Is your costume and footgear in perfect order?

If you can answer all of these questions in a satisfactory-to-grooming manner, you don't need to worry about presenting a beautiful appearance, for you will have realized as fully as possible upon your own beauty and glamour possibilities. No woman can do more than that.

KNOW YOUR STATE

(Prepared for the Courier by the State Planning Board, Department of Commerce.)

When Pennsylvanians visit other parts of our Country, as all of us should, we are frequently delighted by the high reputation of this Commonwealth for its natural beauty.

Just as frequently we are shocked by our own ignorance of features of the State familiar in very distant places.

That ignorance is easy to remedy by visiting some of Pennsylvania's outstanding scenic spots before we go too far afield to admire the many other attractions of the American scene.

It is true we have no towering Rockies or Sierras, but few visitors to the West ever climb those dramatic mountains. We have no Fainted Deserts or illimitable plains. But we do have a match for all these scenic wonders in our own tall hills, our forests and waterfalls, which are often more satisfying and equally exciting.

For the traveler in Pennsylvania can participate in the pleasures of its scenery. He can climb our hills and walk along the ridge path of the Appalachian Trail. He can wander in Cook Forest through the last great stand of virgin trees remaining from the Black Forest which our ancestors conquered to create the fertile farm lands of the Ohio Valley. Deep in the wooded gorges of Ricketts Glen or at the edge of the Poconos is a wilderness of waterfalls—not so overwhelming as Niagara, nor so tall as Yellowstone.

but waterfalls whose pools hide hungry trout, whose basins invite the traveler to a cool dip made more refreshing by the healing odors of the summer woods. Pennsylvania's beauties are accessible to every visitor and that is, perhaps why our woodlands, our lakes and streams, are so well remembered throughout America.

All Pennsylvanians possess in their own right nearly 2,700,000 acres of woods and mountains. It is good to see and enjoy what is one's own before too much envying the possessions of one's neighbors.

SAYS PRIMITIVE ART DOESN'T CUT ANY 'ICE'

Solebury Painter and Teacher Stresses Principles Of Perspective

TONES GIVE DIMENSION

SOLEBURY, July 21—Robert A. D. Miller, teacher of art at Holmquist School and Solebury School for the past four years, claims "primitive art" doesn't "cut any ice" with him.

Mr. Miller says he has seen too much juvenile painting in the last 10 years to be impressed by the work of their "primitive" painting elders.

"When I was teaching at Spring-side School for Girls, I saw many pupils who painted similarly. I knew they painted that way because they hadn't mastered the principles of perspective—they couldn't make objects lie in the painting where they wanted them to appear. They represented a white house by a solidly white form in the painting. They simply hadn't learned to see the shadows and tones which give an object dimension in a painting.

"So I'm unable to see why 'primitive' painting is so phenomenal. It can be interesting. But we have a lot of things that are classed as historical records which are interesting. However, no one ever thought of calling them fine art. It seems to me that it's just good newspaper copy," Miller continued.

Miller claims he doesn't paint according to any theories himself. "I just paint. I think you just paint and you paint according to your time and environment, unless you definitely decide that you are going to be a modernist. Of course, I wonder what produces a mind that sees things in circles and triangles. If the person were born in a factory it might be understandable."

Miller works with the same technique employed by the Dutch masters. He puts the broad flat tones on the canvas and paints on a series of glazes to give a translucent effect. Most of his landscapes are made from pencil sketches which he later works into a composition in his studio.

"I don't think the camera will work against the artist. If you were to take 10 painters and give them all the same scene to paint, no two of the results would look alike. One would accentuate the form, another the color. One would see the scene as a series of shapes and so on. It is impossible to paint anything perfectly realistically because you are always limited by your palette."

During the war, Miller started a department in technical illustration for the Luscombe Aircraft Company. He worked on a method of making drawings to show people how to put things together from blueprints. The method was widely adopted.

His hobbies include sailing and raising hybrid iris. He has just patented an interlocking ridge shingle which he developed as the result of ever recurring leaks in his shingle roof. He hopes to manufacture the device in aluminum and copper. At one time he operated a hand-made lamp company for which he made the designs.

He has two children, Shaun Miller, 17, and a daughter, Darraugh, 29. He recently completed portraits of both.

His wife, the former Celia Marshall, is an art enthusiast herself. She manages the Little Gallery on Palmer Square, Princeton, N. J. Her father, the late Dr. George Marshall, at one time owned the tract of land which included all the property in the Phillips Mill area. He was a boyhood friend of William Lathrop, pioneer New Hope artist, when they lived in Ohio. When Lathrop moved to this section of the country, Dr. Marshall traded him a house for a painting and a small consideration. The Marshall property also included the Mill, the site of the Morgan Colt House and the Holmquist School buildings as well as the present Miller home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Miller are charter members of the Phillips Mill Art Association.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Edward G. Yeomans
Pastor
Bristol Presbyterian Church

Most gracious God and Father, we thank Thee for that infinite love wherewith Thou hast first loved us and we love Thee because Thou didst first love us. We would praise Thee for the gift of Thy love in the gift of Thine own Son, our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Make us to realize the magnitude of Thy love toward us that we might come to love Thee more and more. May we submit our lives unto Thee that Thou might fulfill in us Thy divine and perfect will. We ask this in Jesus' precious name. Amen.

BRISTOL TERRACE, CROYDON A. C. WIN 8 STRAIGHT GAMES

Bristol Terrace and Croydon A. C. won their eighth straight games of the Bristol Youth League last evening. However, Terrace maintained first place in the circuit, losing its opening game.

Behind the four-hit pitching of "Pete" Rubino, the Terrace team won over the Third Ward Eagles, 4-0, on the former's diamond. Rubino's hits were kept scattered and only in the first was the Terrace hurler in serious difficulty.

George Ireland did the mound work for the Eagles and did a fine job in holding Marty Braam's boys to five hits. In the fifth when Terrace scored three times, they did it on one base hit, a single by Frank Barbetta.

On Township's field, Bristol bowed to the Croydon team by a 5-2 score.

Township got off to a 2-0 lead in the first on three hits, a walk, and a hit batsman. The bases were still loaded when Lane Conn fanned F. Shade to end the inning.

Extra base hitting gave Croydon the victory. Of its nine hits, Joe Dominick had two triples and Hedrick connected for a pair of doubles.

Terrace and Croydon will meet Friday evening on the Croydon diamond. In another Youth League game, Fourth Ward plays Bell's Aces on Memorial field.

FLEETWINGS DEFEATS HUNTER-WILSON, 9-3

Leading on the way, the Fleetwing team defeated Hunter-Wilson, 9-3, in an Industrial Softball League game last evening on the latter's field.

The Fleetwings scored three times to take a commanding lead in the second and never relinquished it. A combination of Paul Paolletta and Jerry Gerome held the hitters to three hits.

"Bill" Stockton's fine unassisted double play with the bases loaded in the third helped the "Wingers" while "Bill" Lewis soaked a home run in the third for the winners.

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Ray Smyth, of Narberth, a blind pianist, was the guest entertainer at a dinner meeting of the Doylestown Civic Club, last evening, when he also gave a history of American jazz.

The pianist, who delighted the service clubmen with his anecdotes, background and stories of many of the modern day composers and tunesmiths, traced the history of jazz from its inception about 1910 in New Orleans with the famed Dixieland bands.

He followed the progression of this new type of "crazy music" up through the Tin Pan Alley phase in New York City, the Blues, Swing, the Latin-American influence, including the sambas, rumbas, up to boogie-woogie and be-bop.

The pianist-lecturer demonstrated all types of musical history with his own arrangements of selections by well known composers as Jerome Kern, Irving Berlin, George Gershwin, Richard Rodgers, Vincent Youman, Cole Porter, and others.

He paid special tribute to Paul Whiteman, dean of American jazz, for his contribution by raising it up to the level of acceptance by music lovers.

One of the most unusual programs ever presented before the civic club, Mr. Smyth was given a

APPROVE PLANS FOR NEW NURSES' HOME

21 Girls Have Made Application For Sellersville Nursing School

JUNE, 377 PATIENTS

SELLERSVILLE, July 21 — Approval has been given to plans for the proposed home for nurses at Grandview Hospital. This approval by state authorities is to be followed by submission of bids.

At a meeting of the board of directors it was announced that these specifications will be completed and ready for final inspection by the board at the August meeting after which bids will be sought.

The board decided to make repairs to the hospital elevator at an estimated cost of $1,000.

A contract to have the elevator inspected at regular intervals on a fixed fee basis has been approved. The plan will provide inspection twice each month and repairs will be made when necessary.

Included in the report of the superintendent, Miss Nellie Hoffecker, was a statement concerning the enrollment in the school of nursing. The report indicated that 21 girls have made application to enroll for training as nurses, one of the largest lists in years. The applicants have been investigated and with few exceptions, have been found quite acceptable.

It was pointed out that students of nursing must be in residence at the nurses' home, and that the limited available room has barred the enrollment of all the applicants who are qualified.

Graduate nurses, employed at the hospital, may be housed outside and an effort will be made to find convenient accommodations for graduates to permit the largest possible enrollment of students.

The report showed that during June, 377 patients were treated for a total of 2,924 hospital days. There were 59 major and 122 minor operations and 61 births during the month.

WATER TO COST MORE OUTSIDE MORRISVILLE

10% Discount Will To Be Denied Those Outside The Borough

EFFECTIVE OCTOBER 1

MORRISVILLE, July 21 — Water rates for consumers of water, who reside out of the borough and are supplied by Morrisville Borough will pay increased rates on the October billing. The rates have been approved by the Public Utilities Commission.

Actual rates for all users are the same but residents of surrounding areas are denied the 10 percent discount allowed borough residents.

Although the PUC approved the new rate presented by the borough, William Howell, borough secretary, and Willard Curtin, solicitor, journeyed to Harrisburg recently to revise a few regulations objected to by the Bureau of Rates and Research.

Objections centered around the charging of a fee for water permits. The borough now has a set of rates for water used in the construction of a building rather than a permit fee.

At its own discretion, the borough may demand a $50 deposit for service applications, the fee being refunded when water is used.

These regulations and the new rate apply only to water users not living in the Borough of Morrisville.

Thief Scoops Up Bills And Walks Out of Store

DOYLESTOWN, July 21 — Working in daylight, a thief scooped up a handful of bills at Clymer's department store, here, on Monday, and calmly walked away.

The robbery occurred during the lunch period, between 11 and 12:30. The thief, apparently biding his time, tapped open the cash register in the men's wear section of the nationally-known "old - country" store, collected $35 and disappeared. The theft was not discovered until Albert Van Pelt, the sales clerk in that section returned from his lunch and, missing the money from the register, inquired at the main desk about its removal.

Passing up a pack of one dollar bills in an adjoining section of the money drawer, the thief quickly chose the bills of larger denomination.

The same type of robbery occurred about two years ago in the same store, when a boy removed a handful of bills and walking up the street a short way was encountered by the chief of police, who inquired where he had gotten the "long green" as he sat on a curb blithely counting his "take."

State police are investigating the theft, one of a half dozen which have happened since the store has been in operation. About a year ago the main safe of the store was carted to the cellar and blown open, thieves breaking away part of a counter to move it and using a heavy bolt of material to slide it to the basement floor.

The cash registers are scattered throughout the building, poles and partitions obstruct the view and the casual ring of the register would not attract attention. Aiding the situation, several of the clerks are on vacation.

NEW HOPE PLANS FOR CURFEW LAW

Borough Council Instructs Solicitor to Draw Law Like Lambertville's

CHILDREN 16 IN AT 9.30

NEW HOPE, July 21 — It has been decided to establish a curfew in this borough for children under 16. It is to be similar to the one now in effect at Lambertville, N. J., across the river from here.

At a meeting of Borough Council Monday night a resolution was adopted asking Solicitor Arthur M. Eastburn to draw up an ordinance establishing a curfew.

Councilmen have been impressed so favorably by the Lambertville system that they went on record as approving the same bill which can be heard here clearly.

The present curfew in Lambertville sounds a warning note at 9:15 p. m. for all children under 16 years of age to get off the streets. A 9:30 the final warning is made. At that time children not attended by an adult are ordered to their homes.

Councilman C. Edward Matthews was instructed to petition residents of Mechanics street in respect to his plan to make it a one-way street from New to Waterloo streets.

A bill for $553 to pay for the cost of repairing streets was ordered paid. James Kerwin, health officer, reported an application from Dick's Cab Company requesting a license to sell beverages in his office.

Blaze Destroys Kitchen and Another Room; Damage is $5,000

YARDLEY, July 21 — An aged woman narrowly escaped being burned here late yesterday when she was carried from her blazing home by her husband, 72.

The woman, Mrs. Willis Derry, 75, appears none the worse for her experience. She has been an invalid for two years.

Mrs. Derry and husband reside here along with a maid and her husband. A pie was being baked in the oven of an oil stove and the kitchen was unoccupied at the time. Suddenly there was a loud report and the kitchen was soon a mass of flames.

Smoke poured into the bedroom of Mrs. Derry. She was carried out of the house by her husband, who is 72 years of age. She was taken to the home of a niece.

Yardley firemen responded to the call.

The flames quickly destroyed the rear structure used as a secondary kitchen and burned through a partition to destroy a larger room before firemen could subdue them.

Damage was estimated at $5,000, according to Yardley Chief of Police Robert Waterson.

A "doggie" roast is planned for Aug. 14 at Burlington Island. All members wishing to go are to be at Bristol wharf by seven o'clock, taking their own food.

The welfare chairman, Mrs. Vernon Howell, urged all members to start now to collect good used toys that can be repaired or painted and given to the needy at Christmas time. Anyone having any such toys to donate is asked to contact club members and they will collect the same. Plans are being made to hold the annual "kiddies' Christmas party and these toys will bring joy to many a child who otherwise would have no Christmas. Clothing is also being collected by Mrs. Howell and her committee for the needy. Assistance is also being planned for several families.

The program chairman, Mrs. James Patton, and her committee are planning programs for the fall meeting. Mrs. Leonard Dugan, social chairman, appointed Mrs. Kenneth Dyer and Mrs. Margaret Hunter to take charge of refreshments at the August meeting.

The next meeting will be held Aug. 16.

PROPAGANDA THROUGH UN

World Federation of Trade Unions is a notorious tool of communist labor leaders. The American Federation of Labor refused to affiliate with it for that reason, and the CIO belatedly withdrew from it last year. Now the WFTU is being used as the sounding board for a new Soviet propaganda campaign.

In a long memo addressed to Secretary General Lie of the United Nations, the WFTU gives a rigged set of figures. Unemployment in 12 capitalist countries (11 of them Marshall Plan beneficiaries or North Atlantic Treaty signers, or both) is more than 7,000,000, the memo says. Capitalist governments are conspiring to conceal the facts, it adds.

American unemployment is almost 6,500,000, it says. American employment is almost 9,000,000 below the wartime peak. (Both of these figures are lies.) Profits are higher, while workers are driven into poverty and unemployment. The working class must therefore strike for higher wages and shorter hours, it avers.

A series of strikes in the United States at this time, reds are convinced, could do a maximum amount of harm. If European workers take the WFTU's advice, they may make their own lot so desperate that communism can take over their countries.

If they do their own thinking, the workers will realize that the United States, which is spending generously to bring recovery to their countries, can hardly be the villain of the piece. But this propaganda is not an appeal to reason, but to fear.

This is another case where the communists are using the United Nations to put their lies into circulation.

Secretary Lie, whose salary comes mainly from American taxpayers, can avoid the appearance of succumbing to these plots. He refuses to accept communist propaganda in the future and denounces it.

HAVE A HEART!

Officials of the Veterans Administration, medical and lay, are rumped. They are up against a formidable opponent, a man who can control his own heartbeat. By making good use of this frightening faculty, he has, the VA says, caused it to expend considerable time and money over a protracted period and in many places.

His latest caper, according to the VA, involved getting himself hospitalized for a two-week period in Illinois. He had all the symptoms of heat prostration.

Medical authorities say he is one of only a score of people who can perform this prodigious feat of anatomical discipline. That news is no help to the VA. The man still has his faculty, and presumably he will use it whenever he wishes.

What could one say in trying to persuade him to change his antics? Certainly it would be a poor approach to start off with "Have a heart, Buddy." No, there has to be another approach and the VA would like to know what it is.

Grooming for Bare Legs

If you intend to go without stockings this summer, be sure your legs look well-groomed. Use a depilatory as often as necessary, carefully following directions.

By HELEN FOLLETT

TRULY, the beauty road is one that has no turnings. It goes straight ahead, must be traveled daily. A girl must not only powder her nose, curl her hair, lay on the finger nail pigment and pluck her eyebrows, but must put make-up on her legs if she wears anklets instead of stockings.

The girl who goes swimming can apply a water-proof foundation and a water-proof powder, if she so desires. These items are on sale at cosmetic counters. However, they will form a barrier against the rays of the sun and no tanning will go on.

Leg Make-Up

For regular wear there is leg make-up that causes the flesh to look as if it were encased in the most fragile, beige-colored chifon. If you belong to the bare-legged cult, watch out that you apply it evenly. Include the knees. The skin on these human hinges is usually a bit coarse grained. A little attention won't do a bit of harm.

A light growth of fuzzers on the lower limbs worries some girls, but it need not. A depilatory will remove it.

When using any agent for the removal of superfluous hair, make a test. Follow directions precisely and exactly, covering a small area the size of a dime. If there is no irritation, do the full job next day. Some skins may protest against these preparations, but that does not mean that they are harmful. Sensitive flesh may also protest against the purest powders or nail polish, just as the skin may break out when certain foods are eaten.

And don't forget that, if the legs are to be pretty, one should wear properly-fitted shoes, send them to the cobbler the minute the taps are run over.

"SAINTS" REGISTER 4 TO 2 WIN OVER LALOR A. C. NINE

St. Ann's A. A. snapped out of its doldrums last evening and registered a 4-2 win over Lalor A. C. in a Trenton Industrial League game on Memorial Park field. The "Saints" had dropped two straight games in the Jersey circuit.

"Rabbit" Palumbo paced the St. Ann's nine to the triumph. The diminutive shortstop for the "Saints" personally accounted for three of the four runs. In the third he made a clean steal of home after drawing a walk, stealing second, and advancing to third on "Chuck" Klein's hit. Palumbo came up in the fourth with Joe Elmer on third and Tony Toronto on second. He immediately lined out a triple to center, scoring both base-runners.

The opposing hurlers were Stan Stevenson, of the winners, and Irwin Penrose for Lalor. The Trenton team outlived the locals, 9-7, but Stevenson was tighter in the pinches while Penrose would have had a better fate but for Palumbo's work.

Joe Elmer, St. Ann's backstopper, had two hits and had three stolen bases to his credit. In fact, St. Ann's had six stolen bases.

St. Ann's scored a pair of runs in the third on an error, a walk to Palumbo, Klein's hit, and a steal of home. Its second duo of runs came on Palumbo's triple after Elmer had singled and Toronto walked.

A double by Nugent and an error by Palumbo scored a Lalor run in the second while in the third, Barbetta made an error and Hoffman and Nugent made hits to produce another run.

FRANKLIN WINS IN EASY FASHION

Loose ball playing in the first three innings caused the Jefferson A. C. to go down to defeat at the hands of the Franklin A. C. team last evening on Memorial Park field in a Bristol Suburban Softball League tilt. Final score was 11-5.

The Jefferson team, which dropped to third place as the result of the loss, committed six errors in the trio of innings and this helped the Franklin boys to pile up a 9-0 lead.

"Reggie" Gerome hurried for the winners and blanked Jefferson for five innings. He went sour in the sixth and was touched for five runs before "Jim" Brescia came to the rescue and finished the game. Vito Marsaglia started on the mound for Jefferson and pitched until two were out in the third. "Willie" Salerno replaced Marsaglia and finished by allowing two runs. One of these tallies was a home run from the bat of "Tommy" Kervick in the sixth inning.

Kervick, Fred Fields, Paolella, and Angelo Spinelli had two hits each for Franklin while "Johnny" Ciambella and Steve Clotti getting a pair of bingles for the losing team.

ST. JAMES' DEFEATS CALVARY BAPTIST

Sparked by "Ducky" DeLong's three run homer, St. James defeated Calvary Baptist 8 to 6 in a softball game last evening.

St. James scored two runs in the first inning on singles by Tranter, Jack Bailey and Bud Pearson, only to lose the lead to the home team on a dropped fly ball, a walk and singles by Getz and Broschard. In the top of the third the roof fell in on Smith, when with one out, Tranter singled, advanced to second on a wild pitch and scored on Spencer's double. Jack Bailey beat out a bunt and DeLong scored his mates with a long home run to left field. Calvary loaded the bases in the third with one out, but Spencer bore down to strike out Smith and retire Getz on a grounder to Pearson.

St. James scored single "cushion" runs in the fourth and fifth innings, and Calvary added two more in the fifth inning and one in sixth inning to round out the scoring for the night.

Joining DeLong in heroes' roles for the night were Tranter with four hits and Jack Bailey with three while MacCorkle and Pearson made nice fielding plays for the victors.

USE GOOD IRONING TECHNIQUES TO GET THE BEST RESULTS

By Miss Frances Vannoy
Home Economics Representative
To keep summer clothes fresh and crisp looking, use your best ironing techniques and iron early in the day. Try doing some ironing two or three mornings a week rather than leaving it all for one time.

The following suggestions are offered for easier and quicker ironing: Sprinkle clothes evenly and fold pieces loosely. Allow them to stand until dampness has spread through the garments, preferably overnight.

Practice ironing with an unhurried, rhythmic motion to give the heat time to do the work. Constant pressing down on the iron is tiring. If there is a large number of garments to be ironed, always iron a garment dry to keep it from wrinkling and re-dampening adjoining parts of the garment. Ironing until dry may seem slow but it saves time in the end.

In ironing blouses, shirts, or dresses, iron first the parts that can hang off the board, such as cuffs, collars, sleeves, and belts, then do the body of the garment. Another suggestion is to iron with the weave of the material. Circular skirts and hems won't be stretched out of shape when fabric is ironed with the grain.

Start ironing seams on the wrong side of the garment so the outside has a smooth look. Turn garment right side out, reduce heat, and finish ironing. Avoid shine on dark cottons and rayons and on double thicknesses of pockets and collars by ironing first on wrong side, then use a lightweight pressing cloth to finish on the right side. The appearance of rayon garments is often improved with a second pressing after they hang for a while.

It's a good idea to iron carefully around buttons, turning the button side down on a thick bath towel and ironing over it. Avoid ironing the buttonhole side too heavily, it may sag. Use a tailor's cushion if possible as a handy aid for ironing neck and shoulders.

WASHINGTON WEEK

By CHARLES L. ECKENROAD

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21—They tell the story of the football coach who, while instructing his quarterbacks in a strategy meeting one day, ordered:

"When in doubt, punt!"

President Truman, from his messages to Congress last January and again a few days ago on the economic condition of the nation, must have gotten somewhat the same orders from his $45,000 worth of economic advisers.

"When in doubt, spend!"

At any rate, one who reads the two messages gathers that Mr. Truman feels that deficit spending will cure all evils.

For example, in his message of January 7, 1949, just six months ago, the President said:

"Expectations of continued inflation have added to the incentives for business investment, while the price rise has acted as a brake on the demand of consumers with relatively fixed incomes."

Government Expenditures Due to Rise

"The proportion of consumer expenditures in the total national product has never been lower in any peacetime year for which statistics are available."

"This is not an immediate problem so long as the sum of Government expenditures, business expenditures and net foreign investment is still rising."

That was his answer to threatened inflation six months ago.

Here is his answer to threatened deflation now:

"These and other Government policies are providing strong support to business activity and are enlarging the opportunities of private business."

The fact that public expenditures of Federal, State and Local Governments are running at a rate of close to $50 billion a year is itself an element of great stability in the present situation.

In his budget message last January, the President said "a prosperous country cannot afford an unbalanced budget." Then, he proceeded to introduce a budget which he admitted was at least $600,000,000 out of balance and it turned out to be at least $1,800,000,000 out of balance.

Truman Forsakes Balanced Budget

In his message a few days ago the President said:

"Balancing the budget and reducing the national debt are objectives to be achieved at the earliest feasible time."

"But those objectives cannot be achieved without regard to the general state of the nation's economy."

Then he adds:

"We cannot expect to achieve a budget surplus in a declining national economy."

This raises the question of when can we expect to achieve a budget surplus if it cannot be done in prosperous years and cannot hope to be done in a declining economy?

George Washington said in his farewell address:

"As a very important source of strength and security, cherish public credit. One method of preserving it is to use it as sparingly as possible."

The $12 MILLION AUTO TRIP...

THE GIANT MONSTER has finally been brought under almost complete control in Pennsylvania after $12,000,000.00 was spent by the State and Federal governments in a 16-year fight. No one knows exactly how it got here in 1932, but it was probably brought into the State in the form of an egg cluster on some part of an automobile.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY PARADE

By Max Factor, Jr.

(Famous make-up advisor to the screen stars, now writing for International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD—If you are five-foot-one and a chubby blonde, there is no use working up an inferiority complex about not being able to present the taller brunette statuette of a Dorothy Lamour. Of course, such a blonde could dye her hair black, but if she did she still wouldn't look like Dorothy, and there is no use trying.

A figure, features, complexion and hair colorings comparable to those of a Dorothy Lamour are undeniable beauty assets. But inability to present any or all of these by no means signifies that you are not or cannot be beautiful. Miss Lamour does not at all resemble Betty Grable, who is also beautiful. Betty Grable does not at all resemble Marguerite Chapman, who is also beautiful. And so it goes.

All of which signifies that there is no single, precise, inelastic code or definition for beauty. You don't have to be any certain height in order to be beautiful. Your features don't have to be sculptured along certain exact lines. Your figure need not offer one certain combination or measurements; beauty will always continue to remain an at least slightly undefinable quality.

In spite of the fact that beauty is a somewhat nebulous thing, you nevertheless can ask yourself how beautiful an appearance you do present, and also if this appearance is as beautiful as it possibly can be.

Here are questions which you should ask yourself if you are concerned about your beauty.

On the whole, are you pleased with the reflection of your facial appearance as you view it in your mirror after completing your make-up?

Is your hair attractively lustrous, and artistically done, with its styling forming an attractive frame for

KNOW YOUR STATE

(Prepared for the Courier by the State Planning Board, Department of Commerce.)

When Pennsylvanians visit other parts of our Country, as all of us should, we are frequently delighted by the high reputation of this Commonwealth for its natural beauty. Just as frequently we are shocked by our own ignorance of features of the State familiar in very distant places.

That ignorance is easy to remedy by visiting some of Pennsylvania's outstanding scenic spots before we go too far afield to admire the many other attractions of the American scene.

It is true we have no towering Rockies or Sierras, but few visitors to the West ever climb those dramatic mountains. We have no Faint Deserts or illimitable plains. But we do have a match for all these scenic wonders in our own tall hills, our forests and waterfalls, which are often more satisfying and equally exciting. For the traveler in Pennsylvania can participate in the pleasures of its scenery. He can climb our hills and walk along the ridge path of the Appalachian Trail. He can wander in Cook Forest through the last great stand of virgin trees remaining from the Black Forest which our ancestors conquered to create the fertile farm lands of the Ohio Valley. Deep in the wooded gorges of Ricketts Glen or at the edge of the Poconos is a wilderness of waterfalls—not so overwhelming as Niagara, nor so tall as Yellowstone.

SAYS PRIMITIVE ART DOESN'T CUT ANY 'ICE'

Solebury Painter and Teacher Stresses Principles Of Perspective

TONES GIVE DIMENSION

SOLEBURY, July 21—Robert A. D. Miller, teacher of art at Holmquist School and Solebury School for the past four years, claims "primitive art" doesn't "cut any ice" with him.

Mr. Miller says he has seen too much juvenile painting in the last 10 years to be impressed by the work of their "primitive" painting elders.

"When I was teaching at Spring-side School for Girls, I saw many pupils who painted similarly. I knew they painted that way because they hadn't mastered the principles of perspective—they couldn't make objects lie in the painting where they wanted them to appear. They represented a white house by a solidly white form in the painting. They simply hadn't learned to see the shadows and tones which give an object dimension in a painting."

"So I'm unable to see why 'primitive' painting is so phenomenal. It can be interesting. But we have a lot of things that are classed as historical records which are interesting. However, no one ever thought of calling them fine art. It seems to me that it's just good newspaper copy," Miller continued.

Miller claims he doesn't paint according to any theories himself. "I just paint. I think you just paint and you paint according to your time and environment, unless you definitely decide that you are going to be a modernist. Of course, I wonder what produces a mind that sees things in circles and triangles. If the person were born in a factory it might be understandable."

Miller works with the same technique employed by the Dutch masters. He puts the broad flat tones on the canvas and paints on a series of glazes to give a translucent effect. Most of his landscapes are made from pencil sketches which he later works into a composition in his studio.

"I don't think the camera will work against the artist. If you were to take 10 painters and give them all the same scene to paint, no two of the results would look alike. One would accentuate the form, another the color. One would see the scene as a series of shapes and so on. It is impossible to paint anything perfectly realistically because you are always limited by your palette."

During the war, Miller started a department in technical illustration for the Luscombe Aircraft Company. He worked on a method of making drawings to show people how to put things together from blueprints. The method was widely adopted.

His hobbies include sailing and raising hybrid iris. He has just patented an interlocking ridge shingle which he developed as the result of ever recurring leaks in his shingle roof. He hopes to manufacture the device in aluminum and copper. At one time he operated a hand-made lamp company for which he made the designs.

He has two children, Shaun Miller, 17, and a daughter, Darragh, 20. He recently completed portraits of both.

His wife, the former Celia Marshall, is an art enthusiast herself. She manages the Little Gallery on Palmer Square, Princeton, N. J. Her father, the late Dr. George Marshall, at one time owned the tract of land which included all the property in the Phillips Mill area. He was a boyhood friend of William Lathrop, pioneer New Hope artist, when they lived in Ohio. When Lathrop moved to this section of the country, Dr. Marshall traded him a house for a painting and a small consideration. The Marshall property also included the Mill, the site of the Morgan Colt House and the Holmquist School buildings as well as the present Miller home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Miller are charter members of the Phillips Mill Art Association.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Edward G. Yeomans, Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

Most gracious God and Father, we thank Thee for that infinite love wherewith Thou hast first loved us and we love Thee because Thou didst first love us. We would praise Thee for the gift of Thy love in the gift of Thine own Son, our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Make us to realize the magnitude of Thy love toward us that we might come to love Thee more and more. May we submit our lives unto Thee that Thou might fulfill in us Thy divine and perfect will. We ask this in Jesus' precious name. Amen.

BRISTOL TERRACE, CROYDON A. C. WIN 8 STRAIGHT GAMES

Bristol Terrace and Croydon A. C. won their eighth straight games of the Bristol Youth League last evening. However, Terrace maintained first place in the circuit, being undefeated, while Croydon lost its opening game.

Behind the four-hit pitching of "Pete" Rubino, the Terrace team won over the Third Ward Eagles, 4-0, on the former's diamond. Rubino's hits were kept scattered and only in the first was the Terrace hurler in serious difficulty.

George Ireland did the mound work for the Eagles and did a fine job in holding Marty Braam's boys to five hits. In the fifth when Terrace scored three times, they did it on one base hit, a single by Frank Barbetta.

On Township's field, Bristol bowed to the Croydon team by a 5-2 score.

Township got off to a 2-0 lead in the first on three hits, a walk, and a hit batsman. The bags were still loaded when Lane Conn fanned F. Shade to end the inning.

Extra base hitting gave Croydon the victory. Of its nine hits, Joe Dominick had two triples and Hendrick connected for a pair of doubles.

Terrace and Croydon will meet Friday evening on the Croydon diamond. In another Youth League game, Fourth Ward plays Bell's Aces on Memorial field.
